

Chanda Johnson

Being an Army Veteran, Chanda Johnson jumped at the opportunity to become a Communications Specialist with The Department of Veterans Affairs (VA). She is responsible for managing the VA's web based application (MyHealthVet) aimed at optimizing healthcare for veterans and their families.

Prior to her position at the VA, Chanda was a Data Analyst on the Customer Intelligence team at DrafftCB. Her work in web analytics and social media help to win accounts such as VW, Jack Daniels, and Valspar. She has also worked on data collection, analytics, and reporting for SCJ, Qwest, and Kraft.

Chanda graduated with honors from Virginia Commonwealth University with a Master of Science degree in Advertising.